

Contents

Preface	ix
Dealing with the impact of concurrent disorders	ix
History of the project	ix
Using this resource	x
 PART I: WHAT ARE CONCURRENT DISORDERS?
1 Introduction to concurrent disorders	3
How common are concurrent disorders?	4
The relationship between substance use and mental health problems	6
The impact of concurrent disorders	7
An introduction to treatment	8
References	11
2 Substance use problems	13
Substance-related disorders	14
What is the risk of addiction?	15
Why do people develop addictions?	16
Types of substances	18
References	29
3 Mental health problems	31
Why do people develop mental health problems?	32
Mental health disorders	33
Personality disorders	45
References	49
 PART II: THE IMPACT ON FAMILIES
4 How concurrent disorders affect family life	53
Behaviour changes	54
Relationship changes	55
Increased responsibility	57
Impact on caregivers	58
References	66

5	Self-care	67
	Resilience	68
	Short-term self-care strategies	73
	Long-term self-care strategies	77
	Building a self-care plan	83
	References	86
6	Stigma	87
	Understanding stigma	88
	Experiencing stigma	91
	Surviving stigma	95
	Combating stigma	98
	References	104

PART III: TREATMENT

7	Navigating the treatment system	107
	Is there a system?	108
	What should happen: Integrated treatment	108
	What may happen: Sequential or parallel treatment	109
	Access points	110
	Screening, assessment and diagnosis	113
	Treatment planning	114
	Treatment	119
	Treatment approaches	129
	Co-ordinating treatment	133
	Continuing care	134
	References	135
8	Medication	137
	Drug therapy for mental health problems	138
	Drug therapy for substance use problems	140
	Medication management	142
	Medication abuse or dependence	148
	Drug interactions	149
	Ongoing treatment	151
	Stopping medication	151
	References	152
9	Relapse prevention	153
	What is relapse?	154
	Relapse prevention for substance use problems	154
	Relapse prevention for mental health problems	156

10	Crisis and emergency	161
	Understanding crises and emergencies	162
	Whose crisis is it?	162
	Limit-setting	163
	Dealing with inappropriate behaviour	163
	Example of an escalating crisis	164
	When a crisis becomes an emergency	168
	Creating an emergency plan	174
	Creating a crisis plan	174
	References	177
 PART IV: RECOVERY
11	Recovery	181
	What is recovery?	182
	Key factors in recovery	183
	References	199
12	Resources	201
	Websites	203
	Online publications	207
	Books and booklets	208